Greenhouse Cooling and Circulation Fan Ventilation Product ZLFJ400/500, Stainless Steel

What is Circulation Fan?
Circulation Fan, also known as Greenhouse Air Cooling Fan, keep your plants and staff safe from heat during the warm summer months. Greenhouse circulation fans promote uniform temperature throughout your greenhouse, cold frames, high tunnel, or commercial warehouse. Improve plant production levels, reduce heat stress, eliminate condensation on walls and ceilings, keep greenhouses and buildings fresher.

FLC Circulation Fan Application:

Since the Greenhouse is a relative close environment , the air in the greenhouse is not easy to flow , and the temperature and humidity in the greenhouse air normally h-igh. It can easily breed warious pests and diseases in such an environment. In order to improve the environment inside and ke-ep the air in the greenhouse flowing, Beijing Fenglong meticulously designed a-nd producted the FLC® circulation fan.

Exported To 23 Countries:
Fenglong FLC® Circulation Fan has been serving customers in 23 countries since 2006.
